

March 2010

CREEK RELEASES NEW INTEGRATED AMPLIFIER – ITS MOST POWERFUL TO DATE

Using a time honoured Creek design, this 21st century amplifier is the latest addition to the popular Evolution range of hi-fi separates.

Aimed directly at true music lovers who appreciate the benefits of two channel reproduction, the amplifier nevertheless is equally happy in a home cinema application. Five inputs are selectable by high current gold plated relays and switchable access to the power amp allows the Evolution 5350 to be driven directly by the front channels of a 5.1 AV receiver.

Thanks to this innovative AV direct input, with a simple connection from the Evolution 5350 AV input to the front pre-amp output of the AV processor, the Creek amplifier becomes a standalone power amplifier for the front speaker system. This caters specifically for those people who, whilst more than happy with their AV performance, are not so happy when it comes to listening to stereo through their AV amplification.

Full details can be read on the Evolution 5350 product page.