

September 2007

LONDON VISIT

During September Epoz's Director Jason Pugh visited London to attend a Creek and Epos International Distributor conference.

At the conclusion of the conference he spent a couple of days at the Heathrow hi-fi show. In years past this was always most of the most well attended and popular shows and it appears that it has now returned to its former status as one of the world's leading shows.

Jason's report on the show appears in the October Audio & Video Lifestyle magazine.

During the show Jason had the good fortune to meet the owners of Moving Air - the company responsible for the design and manufacture of Abbey Road cables. Good fortune not only because they want Epoz to distribute their products throughout Australia, but as a result of the meeting, Jason got to spend a Saturday evening having a personal tour of the famed Abbey Road studios.